

U. S. and France Buck British on Policy Terms

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was reported to have sounded out Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today on whether Russia will make any cut in its terms for a Berlin deal.

Lloyd held a luncheon conference with Gromyko which lasted more than two hours.

As the East-West conference went into its ninth week of negotiations, a crowded schedule of talks also called for strategy consultations among the Western foreign ministers and a Big Four secret session at the end of the day.

When the luncheon at Lloyd's residence ended, Gromyko was asked whether there was any progress toward East-West agreement. He replied, pointing to Lloyd, "You had better ask the minister."

Lloyd had no comment.

The United States and France have been reported standing firm against British pressure to cut down on Western terms for a Berlin agreement in order to clear the way for a summit conference.

Associates said Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is still determined to try to get an agreement from the Soviets Andrei A. Gromyko to protect West Berlin. He is reported equally determined not to accept any deal which will put a deadline on Allied rights there.

Chicken Week in Hope Is August 3-8

The Hope Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee has set the August 3 through 8 as "Chicken Week" in Hope.

Realizing the importance of the poultry industry to the economy, the committee made plans early in the year to set aside a week in which recognition would be given those who make possible this added income for the Hope area.

Throughout the week local food stores are being asked to feature poultry, all other stores will be asked to make mention of "Chicken Week" in all of their advertising and local restaurants will be asked to feature and serve chicken each day during the week.

On Saturday the plans call for a big Chicken Barbecue to be held at the City Park, serving barbecue chicken from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. Special entertainment, being arranged for in addition to the barbecue, will be of interest to all. Tickets for the barbecue can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office and several other places to be designated this week. The citizens of the Hope area are urged to get behind this program and help make it one of the bigger events of the year.

Nixon Flies to Leningrad in Tour of Russia

By JOHN SCAL

LENINGRAD (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew to Leningrad today to begin a five-day swing through parts of the Soviet Union.

Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov and his wife were among those accompanying Nixon and his wife. Also along was Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet Government Committee on Foreign Cultural Relations.

Flying ahead were two planes carrying 60 American and foreign newsmen.

Nixon's departure from the Soviet capital was preceded by a weekend visit with Soviet Premier Khrushchev during which they discussed East-West differences for six hours.

Neither side would say whether the marathon talk had boosted chances for removal of the Soviet threat to Allied forces in West Berlin. But Nixon said the long exchange was helpful "because it provided an opportunity for frank and complete discussions in a calm and objective atmosphere."

The Nixon's paid an overnight visit to the Khrushchev's big green-colored country home, or dacha, in a wooded park about 20 miles outside Moscow. Nixon returned to the U.S. Embassy residence Sunday night and drafted a detailed report on the conversation for President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herbert T. Klein, Nixon's press aide, hinted the talk did little to solve any of the major differences dividing the United States and the Soviet Union.

Debra Spends Self But the Damage Heavy

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Communities in the water and debris-strewn wake of Hurricane Debra surveyed today millions of dollars in damages left by the wind, rain and inconvenience of the tropical storm.

Debra's path extended all the way from the Gulf coast chemical and fishing center of Freeport, Tex., into southeastern Oklahoma.

She left behind smashed fishing and pleasure boats, flattened and washed out crops, shattered roofs and windows, felled trees and snarled traffic.

Industrial areas, which expected to catch some of the heaviest damage, escaped destruction.

The hardest blows from the storm which burst with only a few hours warning from the ocean were delivered instead to fleets of boats along the Gulf.

Small boats were swamped, shrimpers were slammed against piling and other boats and pleasure craft were washed ashore or banged against docks and boat-houses by high and vicious tides.

Freeport apparently suffered the heaviest damage. Mayor Jim Russell said it will total 1 1/2 to 2 million dollars.

The police chief at Lamarque said damage at that Gulf coast town will total one million dollars.

The 1,200,000 people in Houston saw the storm pass a few miles to the east of the South's largest city. All airline traffic was held and train and highway travel sharply curtailed. The city escaped with minor damage.

Wants Long to Run for Re-election

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — New Orleans Mayor DeLesseps Morrison says he hopes, "for selfish reasons," Louisiana Gov. Earl Long will run for re-election.

Long's running again would help his own race for governor, Morrison believes.

The New Orleans mayor's views were expressed today in an interview with the Chattanooga Times. He spent Sunday night here after visiting his daughter at a camp near Winchester, Tenn.

The Louisiana constitution, Morrison noted, prohibits Long from running for another term, but he said Long believes he can circumvent the constitution by resigning before the end of his term.

"His attempt to breach the constitution has resulted in general opposition from the public," Morrison said. "The sympathetic reaction toward him in his illness does not mean the public is going to vote for him this time."

Morrison said he and his supporters have taken the stand that Long should be permitted to run for re-election because "we want the public to decide on his attempt to circumvent the constitution."

Morrison opposed Long for the governorship four years ago but was defeated.

"Public sentiment in Louisiana regarding members of the Long family swings back and forth like a pendulum," Morrison said.

"Four years ago I was caught when the pendulum was swinging back the other way."

Two Accidents Account for Eight Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two traffic smash-ups took eight lives over the weekend, pushing to 14 Arkansas' violent death toll for the week ending at midnight yesterday.

A married couple and their daughter died when their car hit the trailer of a cattle truck which had jack-knifed across U.S. Highway 167 four miles north of El Dorado yesterday.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Bill W. Honnell of El Dorado and Debbie Honnell, 4. The other Honnell children, Sherry, 10, and Teresa, 8, were hospitalized but reported in satisfactory condition.

Deputy sheriff Glenn Thompson said the truck driver, Cleo Thornhill, 37, of Pineville, La., said he had pulled out of the line of traffic to pass another truck. When he saw the Honnell car coming he swerved back into his own lane but the trailer skidded across the road.

Thornhill was not hurt. His passenger, Jim Cook, 22, of Alexandria, La., suffered minor injuries. Thornhill was held by police pending the filing of charges of involuntary manslaughter.

A negro man died at Warren of injuries suffered in a week Saturday night which took four lives. He was Elmer Brooks, 30, of Wilmar.

Brooks was a passenger in a sedan which State Police said skidded into the path of a small foreign car carrying a Tillar, 46, family.

Killed were Alvia Mormon, 42, his wife, 40, and two Negroes, Art Lee Trish, 21, and Howard Wright 14, both of Wilmar.

Reported in critical condition at a Warren hospital yesterday were two Mormon children, Ruth, 9, and Charles, 6, and James Riley, 28, Negro of Wilmar.

State Trooper Jack Stone said Riley was driving the sedan when it went out of control. The crash occurred at the Saline River bridge three miles east of Warren.

Other traffic accidents during the week killed four persons and two died by drowning.

Indicapped Youth His Parents

SCUMCART, N.M. (AP) — A disabled 12-year-old boy was taken for psychiatric examination after he shot his father and then with a high-powered rifle. Jordan Ellis, a bare-knuckled crime with a cleft palate, told after he used a 20-30 rifle on his father's parents because.

His father had "bawled him out" for failing to run an errand. His parents had refused to buy him a motor scooter, and they wouldn't let him go to his grandmother's home to watch television.

The father, Ted Ellis, and mother, Charlotte, lay in Tucuman General Hospital in serious condition. The father was shot in the chest and left shoulder, Mrs. Ellis in the right shoulder and hip.

The first question young Ellis asked officers when they arrived last night Saturday after the shooting was reported was: "Do you think I'll get a spanking?"

New Mexico Cowntown Now Getting Water

ROY, N.M. (AP)—Water flowed "halfway," but flowed, into the homes of this thirsty little New Mexico cowntown for the first time in more than five days today, but a new problem has arisen for village officials.

How to pay for a new pump, which the town purchased to push water through a leaky seven-mile water main from the town's town wells to its bone-dry storage tank? "I haven't figured that out yet," said Mayor Robert Kersey.

A combination of two faulty pumps and a leaky seven-mile water main of low-grade wartime pipe — caused the town's storage tank to go dry last Wednesday.

Ray had money, but none of it could be used for new water works equipment because of a state law which prevents the transfer of earmarked funds.

The state couldn't help because the fund for village emergencies was available only to unincorporated ones. Roy is incorporated.

Many of the 750 villagers worked most of Sunday installing the new pump and patching holes in the leaky main.

Khrushchev, Nixon Fail to Settle a Thing

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public argument between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have given diplomats a shock but it didn't amount to much except perhaps to help both men politically at home.

They agreed Sunday their fast set-to at the American fair in Moscow Friday was just frank and hardhitting but not belligerent. It was almost like calling the whole thing good, clean fun.

All they did was hit each other over the head with propaganda where it could get the most mileage—in front of reporters and TV—since all they said to each other had been said before by themselves or their governments.

It was pretty much an old story except for the way it was done. It didn't come any closer to settling anything—or making any thing worse—between the United States and the Soviet Union than a high school debate between an all-American boy and an all-Russian boy, each sticking up for his own country.

Both men knew any real hope they might have for settling American-Soviet differences rested in their private talks, of which they have had several.

To professional diplomats, used to washing dirty international linen out of sight and with polite malice, the spectacle of these two high government officials stepping on each other's toes may have seemed clumsy.

But the United States and the Soviet Union both have been clumsy in the way they have handled Nixon's visit. Nixon's own government put him under a handicap and left him open to abuse before he ever got to Moscow.

There is small excuse — except on the ground of thoughtlessness — for the fact that Congress and the Eisenhower administration combined to declare last week a deliberate, anti-Communist slam, intended to remind the satellite peoples this country hadn't forgotten them.

last work was also the week Nixon was to arrive in the Soviet Union and that the Russians might—as they did—take out their irritation on Nixon.

But if this was clumsy, the Soviets looked ever more gawky. They were incredibly clumsy.

They provided the world with living evidence of Nixon's suggestion to Khrushchev that the Soviets are afraid of ideas. Khrushchev's rejoinder — "we are telling you not to be afraid of ideas" — looked ridiculous in view of events.

The Soviets insisted more than 100 books — including the World Almanac — be taken off the shelves of the American book exhibit at Moscow.

On top of this the Soviets scrambled up the news coverage of Nixon's trip with censorship — a fact that was duly noted in the American press whose dispatches from its reporters in Moscow were delayed or chopped up.

But while ideas unquestionably have more freedom in this country, there should be a slight pause before crowing.

It was only six years ago that the State Department — under the prodding of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) — went in for some book-burning among volumes on the shelves of this government's overseas libraries.

Nixon's ordeal in Latin America last year — when, because of anti-American feeling, he did endure spit and stones — had him political good. It created great here. Many Americans, fed up

Says Russia Has 10
Long Range Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fewer than 10 intercontinental range missiles capable of hitting the United States,
Secretary of Defense Neil H. Mc-Elroy says.

McElroy's statement Sunday contrasted with his news confer-said "We do not believe that Russia has an ICBM capable of operation against this country at this time."

McElroy made it clear Sunday the U. S. defense leaders believe over-all American weapons "could more than match whatever the Russians will have in intercontinental ballistic missile capability."

McElroy said during a television interview with Sen. Kenneth B.
Keating (R-NY) the United States must retain an ability to destroy the Soviet Union if the Soviets should attack with large weapons.

Michigan Family Special Tourist Guest of City Last Week

A LITTLE GIRL looking out the back window of a car was instrumental in getting our Tourist Guests For The Week, stopped Thursday at noon. Mr. and Mrs. John S. DeHaan and niece Linda of Kalamazoo, Mich., en route to San Benito, Texas, were approaching Hope on Highway 67 East when the police car pulled up behind in an effort to stop them. They were driving an air-conditioned car with the windows closed, thereby making it difficult to hear noises from the outside. Linda noticed the police car approaching from the rear and warned her uncle that they were after him. Mr. and Mrs. DeHaan very graciously accepted the invitation of Bud Collier and E. L. Archer Jr. to be guests of the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Committee.

The DeHaans have owned a ranch near San Benito for several years and make trips every year between their Michigan home and the ranch. They recalled having stopped in Hope several times before while on one of these trips. Mr. DeHaan is a building contractor in Kalamazoo and has been building some fifty to sixty houses per year for the past several years. The trip to San Benito is to check up on this year's crop. "A good portion of the ranch is planted to cotton this year and we need to see how it is coming along," said Mr. DeHaan.

Policeman Alvin Willis drove the police car in the absence of Chief Jack Brown and Bud Collier and E. L. Archer Jr. issued the invitation to the DeHaans. Julian Hoseny drove the guests to his Down-town Texaco Station where it was washed, greased and filled with gasoline. Jim James of the Trading Post drove the new air-conditioned Mercury that brought them to Turpley's Motel where they enjoyed a brief rest in a room furnished by the Motel. They enjoyed a specially prepared meal at the Ideal Cafe in the Company of Mr. and Mrs. Jim James and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Archer Jr. who were representing the Garden Clubs of Hope.

Other persons and business firms who participated in the program were: Mr. and Mrs. John Harrie of Shipley's Studio who took the pictures, Jim City of radio station KXAR for a radio interview, Hope Basket Company, Split Hickory Company, Bruner-Ivory Handle Company, Hickory Aroma Company, Southwest Wood Products Company, Mildred's Pastries and the Chamber of Commerce. The business firms provided some of their manufactured products and the Chamber of Commerce furnished a Hope watermelon.

Dough Sticks to Fingers of Tightfisted Old Gent

Dear Dorothy Dix: I would like some advice on old people. My father-in-law makes his home among the children, as he should. The reason I'm complaining is that he expects the children to keep him for nothing. He won't even buy a loaf of bread. He has a few thousand in the bank, property and a steady income. I would like him to stay with us all the time but frankly we couldn't afford it. My husband has been out of work quite a bit and we have a hard struggle supporting ourselves.—Mimi

Says Schools Can Require Polio Shots

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas school authorities have the legal power to require pupils to get the first shot in the polio vaccination series before entering school, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled Saturday.

Bennett's opinion said the school officials may also require that the three-shot series be completed within a year to maintain a student's eligibility.

Hugh L. Mills, Hot Springs school superintendent, had asked for the ruling.

Bennett cited a state law which empowers school directors to do "all things necessary and lawful for the conduct of an efficient free public school or schools in the district."

The ruling came on the heels of state Health Department reports that Arkansas has had 73 polio cases this year, almost 10 times the number recorded at this time last year. Health officials termed the outbreak an epidemic.

Police said the wallet contained between $175 and $200 in vacation pay.

Mrs. Gendron jumped from the car and ran into the woods where she met three fishermen. They went to the car and found Gendron dead.

Lost Mine Searcher Found Near Death

BRAWLEY, Calif. (AP)—An Easterner who set out about to search for a legendary lost mine in the desolate desert was found near death Sunday.

Searchers found Joseph Pennington, 42, of North Brooklyn, N.Y., unconscious and dehydrated in an abandoned mine shaft. He is in serious condition in a hospital here.

Pennington left Noland, a small town north of here, Friday A. M. to a local miner who was headed for the Chagote Mountains to look for the Pegler gold mine, supposedly a rich producer of the metal.

He took only a small canteen of water and two cans of jam and marmalade. The temperature hit 130 degrees in the area.

Escaped Baboons Shot and Killed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two baboons were shot and killed yesterday after they had escaped from their cage by ripping off wire mesh.

The animals—Nip, a 70-pound male, and Tuck, 45-pound female—had fled into a wooded area after Nip was wounded by a shotgun blast fired by Dr. E. B. Masters, veterinarian who owned the pair.

Masters and his wife managed to herd the beasts back up to their cage but couldn't get them in it. Fearful they might become irritated and hurt someone, Masters fired at Nip.

Police hunted the baboons for several hours before Officer Enell Smith and his brother, U. C. Smith, killed them.

Masters said he had owned Nip and Tuck about six years, and had got them from a wild animal show.

Cherry's Father Dies in Oklahoma

ST. RENO, O. (AP)—General services will be held tomorrow for U. S. Cherry, father of former Arkansas Gov. Frank A. Cherry of the show.

Cherry, a retired national basketball star, died Saturday at Oklahoma City after a three-month illness.

He had resided here with a daughter, Mrs. S. H. Dean.

Fire Breaks Out in Home of Promoter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A flash fire broke out late Sunday night in the home of boxing promoter Jackie Leonard, who on June 3 said he was beaten after receiving threats from underworld figures trying to muscle into boxing.

Leonard said he and his wife, Jeanne, and two women visitors were watching television when the fire started in a front bedroom. He said the fire screen covering of the bedroom window had been torn open.

"I called the department and arson squad investigators," Leonard said. "I threw several pails of water on the fire and was able to get it out before they arrived."

Leonard said this was the second incident at his home in the last two weeks. On July 12, he said, a gallon can full of gasoline was found on the front porch of his home. He said gasoline had been splashed on the window sill and side of the house.

Leonard was found unconscious in his garage last June 3. He said two men had attacked him. After an investigation, police expressed the opinion Leonard had blacked out and injured himself in a fall.

Earlier, Leonard had told the California Athletic Commission that underworld figures Frankie Carbo and Frank (Blinky) Palermo had threatened him in an attempt to get a part of the contract of world welterweight champion Don Jordan.

Patterson Jr. and other Gazette executives.

Austin Jennings, attorney for Hill and Dunaway, tried repeatedly to draw testimony from Edwin Dunaway that he had advised the two pinball operators—his legal clients—to make a payoff to Trout.

Trout's attorney, Max Howell, objected to this line of questioning and was sustained.

Edwin Dunaway testified—that if he is related to Harold Dunaway it is distant.

The attorney said he had represented the two pinball operators for a number of years. He is one of their attorneys in the present action.

No injuries were reported.

Hospital Program Gets Approval

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas State Hospital's planned three-year residency program for training in psychiatry has been approved by a certifying agency.

Dr. Grayville Jones, hospital superintendent, said approval came from a committee representing both the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and the American Medical Assn.

The training program was set up because of a shortage of psychiatrists, Jones said, and would enable the hospital to "grow our own."

Arkansan Killed in California Wreck

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Alice Thompson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Thompson of North Little Rock, Ark., was killed yesterday when she was thrown from a sports car and pinned under it.

The driver, Leonard Sullivan, 18, of Catalina, Calif., suffered minor injuries when the car went off U. S. 50 and overturned about three miles east of here.

Miss Thompson had been living with a brother and attending school at San Angelo, Tex.

Wanted Financier Located in Brazil

NEW YORK (AP)—Lowell M. Birrell, a lawyer and financier wanted here in connection with a multimillion-dollar stock fraud, has been located in Rio de Janeiro.

Birrell, 52, missing since 1957 when a warrant was issued for his arrest, was charged two weeks ago in a 69-count indictment with engineering a 14-million-dollar fraud on stockholders in two companies.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Thursday that Birrell, who has been reported seen in various cities around the globe, arrived in Rio this week probably from Paris. Hogan said Birrell is using the name Lowell McAfee. His middle name is McAfee.

Brazil has no extradition treaty with the United States. So Birrell's deportation is being sought through the State Department. Hogan said he may have a fraudulent passport.

Birrell disappeared in November 1957 after he failed to appear in federal court in an injunction proceeding on a charge of violation of the Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

zy, tawny-gray, dodged into the open, pursued by a wild-eyed cow, whose gaunt, foam-flecked flanks were heaving and shaking from sustained effort in the depths of the thicket, a calf bleated feebly.

The wolves, for the moment, were unaware of Haskell's presence. Lunging wildly back and forth, the cow swung hooves and horns at the killers. They eluded her with darting ease, the snarling, chopping flings a constant taunt and threat.

The distance was a good 80 yards much too far for any kind of certainty with a belt gun. But there was a rifle riding in the scabbard under Haskell's knee and he lifted this free, levered a cartridge into the chamber and drew quick bead on the nearest wolf.

Haskell's rifle whipped out its hard, flat report and the bullet slammed home, knocking the wolf flat.

Fast as a beam of light, the other raider was beyond the thicket and gone before Haskell could lever home a fresh cartridge.

The cow, with legs spread and head low, a hoarse bellow deep-crumbling in her throat, came ponderously around, ready to face any new threat. As he rode up, Haskell grinned at this show of bovine circumspection.

"All right, you gallant old idiot. Behave yourself!"

Reassured at sight of a man and his horse, the cow, though watching carefully, kept her distance and her peace as Haskell dropped his rifle into the scabbard and dismounted.

Looking the new-born calf over, Haskell saw it was uninjured, and knew relief as he reholstered his gun. He had feared finding a fang-torn little animal to be put out of its misery.

He carried the calf into the open and balanced it across his saddle, swinging up behind it and sending his horse on along the meadow. Rumbling an occasional bellow of anxious, plaintive concern, the mother cow followed close behind.

As he neared the scatter of grazing cattle, further movement at the timber edge off to his right, caught and held Haskell's glance. Three riders showed there. Rein- ing up, Haskell swung his horse to face them, his casual, musing ease of the moment replaced by an impassive alertness.

Two of the three were men, the third a girl. One man was an oldster, gaunt and still-faced. The other, younger, loomed early in the saddle. Under sunbleached brows his eyes were hot and intolerant, his broad face aghast colored with the strong flush of arrogance. He threw at Haskell: "Just where do you think you're going with that calf?"

Haskell regarded him steadily. "Who's asking?"

"You'd better be the name. Once more, where with the calf?"

"Right about here should do." Speaking, Haskell stepped down. Lifting the calf free and watched it bobble off on uncertain legs to be immediately reclaimed by its anxious mother.

"Watch!" Tenderly jeered. "Caught with the words, you ought just put it down and ride away."
